Peng Er LAM, Yaqing QIN, Mu YANG : China and East Asia:After the Wall Street Crisis: 33 (Series on Contemporary China) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised China and East Asia:After the Wall Street Crisis: 33 (Series on Contemporary China):

This book examines the need for greater East Asian cooperation and the challenges to this grand endeavor. With differing national outlooks, how can East Asia preserve peace, prosperity and stability amidst geopolitical competition? To answer this question, the volume examines the political and economic relations between Beijing and its neighbors against the backdrop of two trends: the power shift from the West to the East in the aftermath of the American Financial Crisis and the ongoing eurozone crisis, as well as the rise of China. Contents: Introduction; China and East Asia: After the Wall Street Crisis (Peng Er Lam, Mu Yang and Yaqing Qin) East Asia's Political and Economic Architecture: East Asian Regionalism: Architecture, Approach and Attributes (Yaqing Qin) China in the Post-Financial Crisis East Asia: Towards a New Regional Economic Order (John Wong) China as the World's Second Largest Economy: Qualifications and Implications (Liping He) Trade and Investment Facilitation in East Asia: Development, Challenges and Cooperation (Ying Fan and Wentao Li) Elections in Hong Kong: International Perspectives and Implications for China (Bill K P Chou) Regionalism in the Post-Financial Crisis East Asia: Developments, Models and Proposals (Ling Wei) East Asian Community: Dream or Reality?
