

(Ebook pdf) China's Economy: A Collection of Surveys (Surveys of Recent Research in Economics)

China's Economy: A Collection of Surveys (Surveys of Recent Research in Economics)

From Wiley-Blackwell
*ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC / audiobook

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#3806252 in eBooks 2014-12-23 2014-12-23 File Name: B00TNI2SRS | File size: 35.Mb

From Wiley-Blackwell : China's Economy: A Collection of Surveys (Surveys of Recent Research in Economics) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised China's Economy: A Collection of Surveys (Surveys of Recent Research in Economics):

This collection of critical surveys provides readers with a range of up-to-date work from leading scholars in the area, writing on some of the key issues facing China, as they survey the present and future challenges of the Chinese economy. Nine papers provide detailed discussion on key aspects of the past, present and future of the Chinese economy Leaders in their relevant fields of scholarship tackle some of the critical issues facing China Contributors identify common themes, including the household registration system, urbanization, demographic transition, inequality and the sustainability of economic growth Articles provide a critical review of the literature and discuss policy implications and areas for future research

From the Back Cover China is set to overtake the United States as the global economic leader, yet we are limited in our knowledge of the internal workings and operations of the Chinese economy - this is in part due to the narrow representation of English language scholarly work on China. China's Economy - nine articles that provide a critical review of the literature and discuss policy implications and areas for future research - does much to fill the gap in knowledge of the past, present and future of China's story. The collection of critical surveys presented in this edited volume provides readers with a range of up-to-date work from some of the leading scholars in the area, writing on some of the critical issues facing China. They survey the present and future challenges of the Chinese economy, based upon a rich, ancient past, yet contested, recent history, and identify some common themes. Commencing with a survey of work providing a consensus on Chinese economic history, the volume then considers China's growing service sector; housing market and effects of an urbanizing society; its innovative activity, and a range of labour market issues including growing inequality, pension reform and demographic transition. About the Author Iris Claus is a Senior Fellow, Department of Economics, Waikato University, New Zealand. Her current research interests are in unconventional monetary policy, taxation, financial intermediation, open economy macroeconomics and general equilibrium modeling. She is the Managing Editor for Journal Economic Surveys and Associate Editor of Asian Economic Papers. Les Oxley is Professor in Economics, University of Waikato, New Zealand, and Adjunct Professor, School of Economics and Finance, Curtin University of Technology, Australia. He is the editor of, amongst others, Innovation, Entrepreneurship, Geography and Growth (with P. McCann, Wiley-Blackwell, 2012), Economics and History: Surveys in Cliometrics (with D. Greasley, Wiley-Blackwell, 2011), and the author of China's Energy Economy: Reforms, Market Development, Factor Substitution and the Determinants of Energy Intensity (with Hengyun Ma, 2012).