Every once in a while a book comes along that offers a different take on leadership. Every leader needs goals, objectives, people skills, and technical expertise to succeed. However, they also need a reason for leading in the first place. That reason is ultimately God's Purpose for our lives. Leadership guru Jim Kennedy takes us on a journey of the tragic events in his life that led to him discovering his purpose in life and how that purpose led to a new and life-affirming calling. He shares how he used his faith to lead him in the direction of his calling and how he came to rely on the words: "With God, all things are possible." Along the way, he shares ten leadership lessons that not only made him a better husband and father, but a better leader in all aspects of his life. A Bible-based leadership study guide and additional resources give readers the tools to apply these lessons to their own lives. In Discerning God's Purpose, you have the tools to become the leader that you were meant to be.
