From Conception To Profits. Entrepreneurs can get the funds they need to start up their successful Internet business without any money coming out of their own pocket or seeking friends and family for a loan. Startups don't need to stress about their bank account to start up a thriving business online. In fact, you'll be happy to know you can start up your dream business without spending a dime of your own money! What's the Catch? Entrepreneurs need to understand how to prepare and present their proposals in a manner that venture capitalists, angel investors will be attracted to analyze with specific information that could justify your good ideas and present it to potential investors in order to canvas monetary support that will take your ideas from conception to profits. This book reveals how to take the first step to starting your own dream business through the enticement of the investing crowd, be it through venture capitalist or crowdfunding, there are literally thousands of people out there looking for businesses to invest in every day and venture capitalist receive dozens of business plans every day, often in various formats and some are lacking in essential data. Beside Crowdfunding platforms inherently leverage Web and social media technology to categorize multiple aspects of the companies seeking capital and this book will guide startups in a concise effective manner that get them to be quickly reviewed and noticed any potential investor. Learn the secrets to present your ultimate business plan to the VC and also how to entice to your crowdfunding platform in order to give you the best possible chance at meeting or even exceeding your funding goal. Normally under the crowdfunding umbrella, which may managed a lot of investors is logistically very difficult task. The more investors a company has, the more time and effort its senior management must spend communicating with them. With that number of investors, management would find it too difficult to change directions quickly, or to focus on activities other than attending to investors. Find Out How to Stand out among the rest to get the Maximum Support from the Investors VCs do more than provide cash. They also provide introductions to potential customers and suppliers, help in hiring senior managers and offer connections to CEOs of potential acquirers and investments who can take the companies public. Of course, not all start-ups need this help. The entrepreneurs who need this type of assistance will likely stick with venture capitalists who can provide it rather than shift to equity crowdfunding platforms that are less likely to be able to supply it. Find Out How This Book can help you Make the Right Decision!
