before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Post-Materialist Business: Spiritual Value-Orientation in Renewing Management:

Post-Materialist Business presents a spiritual-based approach to business and management. It uses pluralistic view of spirituality and provides a number of inspiring cases of alternative organizations which go beyond the materialistic mindset of business and serve the common good of society, nature, and future generations.

About the Author Laszlo Zsolnai is Professor and Director of the Business Ethics Center, Corvinus University of Budapest, Hungary. Laszlo is also president of the European SPES Institute in Leuven, Belgium and serves as chairman of the Business Ethics Faculty Group of the CEMSnbsp; - The Global Alliance in Management Education.
