Prosper is a practical holistic guide to dealing with our changing future. It's written gently and is hard to put down. You won't read it and forget it. It's a resource. (I couldn't find a hard copy on my way out of the country, so got the online version which I recommend because of the convenience of accessing numerous supporting documents). I would recommend reading Proverbs along with it. It could be overwhelmingly, but it could be life-changing. 19 of 21 people found the following review helpful. A good read! By D. Kolton First let me say this is probably a TEN STAR book for anyone not familiar with the work of PeakProsperity.com That said, if you already know much of their work, you will already know much of what is in here. There are no profound revelations, just great common sense condensed into one volume. I believe in Chis Adam, and I think most of you should too! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. If you are aware of the 4 primary asset classes 3 types of wealth then this is a must read to understand the types of capital By Jason Ansley Loved the expansion on the different types of capital. While the book pattered towards the end, it still provided a ton of value especially with all the resource links spread throughout the book and appreciatively added as a chapter by itself. While the read stories were good they were not very diverse, in particular age wise (or at least it appeared that way). There was a lot of promoting their other book as well as their paid membership site but still... I LOVED the content!

The Next 20 Years Will Be Completely Different From The Past Current global trends are bleak: weak economic growth, too much debt, declining incomes for the lower 99%, a dangerous addiction to fossil fuels, and ecological destruction just to name a few. Many of us understandably feel resigned to an eroding standard of living in the years to come. At best. But what if we told you that there are specific, attainable steps you can take today that can limit your vulnerability to these trends and help you be: - Richer - Live with greater purpose - Healthier - More valued by others - Happier - Safer from harm That's exactly what Prosper! offers: a blueprint for taking control of and improving your destiny. It outlines practical, actionable investments of your time resources that will ensure you enjoy greater prosperity in your life, whatever the future may bring. In Prosper!, Martenson and Taggart will explain: - The trends mostly likely to shape your life over the next 20 years - Why developing resilience offers your best chance for thriving, even though society may suffer from the changes these trends may bring - How to build true wealth - What specific actions to take now to secure a prosperous future, no matter what the future holds - How everybody can benefit from this guidance, regardless of age, income or ability How we can best serve the next generation by the actions we take today Prosper! is the highly anticipated follow-up to Martenson's acclaimed book The Crash Course (Wiley, 2011)

"How does one thrive--let alone survive--in a world filled with unsustainable debt, overconsumption, and rampant cronyism? The authors of Prosper! put forth the best vision I've yet seen." David Stockman, former Director of the U.S. Office of Management Budget and author of The Great Deformation "Of those trying to decode the gathering fiasco of finance and economy, Martenson and Taggart get my vote as the smartest guys in the room. Their writing is lucid, wise, funny, and wide-ranging, and this book is indispensable, if you want to come out the other side of this crisis in one piece." James Howard Kunstler, author of The Long Emergency and the World Made by Hand series "I couldn't put Prosper! down. Whether you think things are getting better or getting worse, legacy living is the way to thrive, and this book tells you how to do it. Everyone needs to read Prosper!" Joel Salatin, Plyface Farms About the Author Chris Martenson and Adam Taggart are the co-founders of PeakProsperity.com, where they have been educating millions of readers about the risks in our Economy, Energy and Environment systems since before the 2008 financial crisis. With degrees from Duke, Cornell, Brown and Stanford between them, both held executive positions in companies such as SAIC and Yahoo! before consciously opting out of the corporate life for a more meaningful purpose: to build awareness of the looming changes the next 40 years will bring, and to help concerned individuals like you take prudent action in advance. They both moved their families to more rural, self-sufficient locations with strong community engagement, and launched the website PeakProsperity.com. The website is visited by 4 million people a year, and its video series The Crash Course has been viewed over 15 million times and translated into over 14 languages.
